Letter from the Rector

'It's a dangerous business, Frodo, going out your door. You step onto the road, and if you don't keep your feet, there's no knowing where you might be swept off to.'

Dear friends

This is one of my favourite quotes, it's from JRR Tolkien's Lord of the Rings. It is all about new beginnings and new adventures. This is the point where we all stand at this moment in time. Each of us stand at the point of a new beginning, from my perspective I stand on the verge of retirement and whatever that might bring. For all the people and parishes that I have served over the last eleven years it might be similar, the expectation of a new vicar and what that might bring. There is no doubt, it is a time of mixed feelings, fear and trepidation, joy, and excitement and all these emotions seem to be rolled up in a good dose of just not knowing.

There is one thing I do know and that is my need to offer my grateful thanks to all the people and parishes who have who have loved, cared for, supported and enabled me in my eleven-year ministry here in North Cornwall. It has been a unique privilege and great pleasure to serve the people of, not only this benefice, but also the deanery of Stratton.

With any journey, there are always parting of the ways and the journey of life is no different. The key words of encouragement for me are, "Do not be afraid"(Jn 14:27) and "I am with you always till the end of time" (Mtt 28:20). Regardless of where our slippery feet take us it is always good to know that God is walking the path of life with us.

May God bless each and every one of you as you journey on.

Yours in Christ's service

coming from their properties. Now the Trust provides funds for those in need. They also fund education - Budehaven school library was funded by Blanchminster. The trust provides grants to university students, grants towards 6th form studies, special needs, sewing groups, music groups, etc. all based in and around Bude/Stratton. The group meets once a month but can provide emergency funding in between these meetings. The meeting was extremely interesting and a lot was learnt about this very good organization. We were even treated to seeing Chris dressed up in chain mail.

Week St. Mary Bonaventures June meeting

In June we welcomed Chris Nichols who is the Chief Stockwarden of the Blanchminster Trust which is based in Bude – described by Chris as a suburb of Stratton. The Blanchminster trust is the oldest grant giving charity in Britain and possibly in the world. There is a book written in Old English that gives information on the trust. The title Stockwarden comes from the historical role of looking after the stock (i.e. animals) they were kept in what is now Poundfield. Records start 1421 but the trust probably goes back as far back as 1100. There are remains of the square moat just down from Lidl which was thought to be the first settlement. The first Ranulph de Blanchminster went off to the crusades and was reported as being killed, his wife remarried but he was still alive. Second Sir Ranulph a bit of a scoundrel who married Isobel, heiress of Scilly Isles, now had Stratton and the rent of 300 puffins from the Scilly Isles. Their son married a girl with the surname of Wake which is possibly where Week came from. Here the line ended and normally the riches would have passed back to the crown but at this point the trust was set up and administered by the church. In 1421 Poppy's field was acquired which is a large area of Bude including the triangle and the area up from Barclays Bank and much of King Street – most of which still belongs to the Trust. The Trust had three specific purposes armour and equipment for the king, relief of the poor and defence of the parish. In 1588 word of the Spanish Armada was take to London from Stratton by horses paid for by the Trust. The south aisle of St Andrews church was paid for by Blanchminster as was the pillory and ducking stool! Stratton was one of the first areas to inoculate against smallpox. John Cotton being the first at a cost of 7s 6d. The Trust owns a lot of property in Bude and does not fund raise, their income

The cost of AI is to be felt by everyone!

Much is being said about AI and it is a very exciting, concerning and an uncertain time as artificial intelligence is FORCED upon us.

Ai is the dream of science fiction, but in late 2022 it became a reality, now the world has gone mad over the potentials and threats of this intellectual system, which has to be said, the inventors are not sure how it works, but it does!

So, will it affect us all? The simple answer is yes! Not least the cost of new computers and here's why!

In 2021 Microsoft launched Windows 11 version 21H2, earlier this year version 22H2 was released and version 23H2 will soon be available which will focus heavily on Ai.

The upshot of all this is most computers, not built within the past 5 years, will not work on the new software, and possibly later models will not be able to handle Ai either, but that's a wait and see!

Microsoft has already released Bing Chat and ChatGBT and is planning to release an Ai assistant called 'Co-pilot' which will be capable of analysing texts and images without opening the browser, answering specific contextual questions, and even controlling your systems settings. There are other features in the pipeline as always with Microsoft some of these fixes are to fix things which are not broken! Also, Microsoft's Chatbox is designed to promote advertising, if wanting to test ChatGPT sign into <https://www.openai.com>, it is particularly good and no adverts!

From October of this year, Windows 10 machines built before 2017 will cease to provide satisfactory functionality as updates and patches will stop being sent out. Some printers and scanners are already failing to function correctly as drivers become incompatible with the new software.

People will become frustrated with their none working systems and millions will dispose of them in recycling centres. But, don't rush out and buy a new one, newly bought machines can be 18 months old as they have travelled the high seas for 6 months, or more, or stuck in a distributors warehouse as sales have dropped. Some video and graphic drivers may need to be updated as improved Video morphing will become a new plaything in Laptops, Tablets and Phones. "You ain't seen nothing yet!" Was one comment I received when discussing it recently.

All very exciting and very dangerous, hackers are ahead of the game and legislation is likely to be as toothless as ever. Enjoy the ride, but it could be very bumpy! Beware the elaborate cons, there are plenty, and some will be truly horrendous!

Lego Café

Week St Mary Lego Cafe has recently taken delivery of another huge bag full of Lego – much of it from Harry Potter kits.

The Lego café is open to everyone and there is no charge. We open at 9.30 in the church for those who would like a cooked breakfast from £2-£5 or you can just come and play Lego at no cost at all until 12pm.

We have boxes and boxes of both traditional Lego and Duplo, (enough now thank you!) so something to suit all ages from babies through learner or expert kids right up to adult enthusiasts. There will be Challenge Build each month as well as free expression building if you prefer. Why not come and join us, we will be running monthly throughout the year. 01288 341221

Cornwall Memory Café Network

Week St Mary Church is joining the Cornwall Memory Cafe Network and starting a new Memory Cafe called Happy Memories. The group is open to everyone of all ages who is either experiencing memory problems or cares for someone who does. We will be meeting fortnightly on a Monday in WSM church from 2-4pm starting on 26th June. Please see the poster for full details. All are welcome and of course this need not be the only Memory Cafe that you attend.

Further information from Sue Dickenson 01288 341016 shdickenson@aol.com

Week St Mary Church Lunch Club

The Lunch Club will be held this month on Wednesday 19th July at 12pm

Everyone is welcome but there is limited space so do please book on 01288 341221 or leslymbooker@gmail.com as soon as possible so that we can get the catering right! There is no formal charge, we simply hope that you come along and join in.

Many thanks to Sue Isherwood who produced a fantastic Meat and Potato Pie for the June lunch and to everyone who helps with the preparation, serving and clearing up.
