POOR MAN'S PIECE

— COMMUNITY GREENSPACE —

A new, 300 year old project

In 1710, a forward-thinking benefactor named John Clarke donated a field to the people of Week St Mary. He bequeathed "a little piece or quillet of land, called the Poor Man's Piece" to be held in trust "for the use of the... Parish forever". This land, one of the last few undeveloped medieval field strips in the area, continues to be protected for the community today.

Let's open the gate

Despite sitting in the heart of the village, at present Poor Man's Piece cannot be safely used because it is not insured for public access. With some investment, this space is just waiting to become a haven for human and wild life alike. We need to buy insurance and mend the gateway to allow people safe access; then, purchase young trees, wildflower plugs and wildlife boxes to provide for our wilder visitors.

PLEASE DONATE

We hope that you can help us to open the gate at Poor Man's Piece at last! To fund this exciting project we are welcoming donations at the community shop and via our Crowdfunder page:

Week St Mary Bonaventures WI June Meeting

This month we were delighted to welcome Martin Brooks, our local Pilates teacher, to talk to the group.

Martin has been teaching Pilates for more than 14 years and shared his experience of becoming a teacher following a back injury 25 years ago. Pilates can help with many skeletal conditions and can also supplement other treatments for joint pain in areas such as hips and backs to help avoid surgery.

Pilates was originally designed by Joseph Pilates, a German intern in the UK during the 1st World War, and he designed his ideas based on body mechanics which were later published in his book "Return To Life".

The system was designed for use by everyone but is also used to improve performance for elite sports athletes such as Olympic swimmers and Rugby players.

Martin shared some inspirational quotes from Joseph Pilates such as "The Pilates Method teaches you to be in control of your body not at its mercy".

Martin went on to quiz the group about the name and purpose of various body joints and muscles and worked through a variety of gentle exercises to assist with joint pain and mobility issues. He explained that there may be many reasons for joint pain and how it is essential to concentrate, whenever possible, on good body position and posture to help relieve joint pain. He also used his spine model "George" to explain how

RUDI AND WILL

The World Agility Open of 2024 in the Netherlands was one of truly mixed emotions for Will and Rudi as they proudly represented Scotland for the third and final time as a partnership. It had long been decided that this would be Rudi's last event before his retirement from competitive agility after the most incredible career.

Will himself was still recovering from glandular fever but was determined to see Rudi bow out at the very highest level. There were no expectations of a medal, but more a wish to give Rudi the finish to his career that he deserved. For this special spaniel to even be selected to run here when well past his 11th birthday is a testament to his ability.

Will and Rudi took part in several competitions at WAO but the blue riband event was the Pentathlon. The initial aim here is to be high enough up the leader board after two rounds (one jumping and one agility) to make the cut to qualify for rounds three and four. The number of high quality competitors our pair would be facing was clear from the start.

Agility round 1 was in the main arena and a steady, well handled clear round was exactly what was required. This clear round was good enough to see them through to rounds 3 and 4 despite an elimination in Round 2.

Part 3 of the pentathlon was another agility round in the main arena.

Another great round saw just one error with a missed dog walk and 5 faults. The team needed to be in the top 20 positions in the pentathlon after 4 runs to qualify for the final event the next day. Given the relative speed of Rudi and the position they were in after three runs, this was extremely unlikely. So, part 4 of the pentathlon was going to be Rudi's last ever competitive run.

Will was delighted that the jumping course had been designed and was to be judged by one of Will's favourite judges, Natalie Grace. It was a lovely course for Rudi to finish on and Rudi responded, overcoming some fatigue on what was still a warm day to produce one final clear round.

What a super way to finish a stellar career - at the World Championships, with a fantastic judge and going clear.

There were plenty of celebrations and not a few tears from supporters and Scotland team members as Rudi took the final jump. Will and Rudi, in a pentathlon class of nearly 100 of the world's best pairings, finished in a very creditable 35th place.

Thank you to all of those in Team Scotland who were great company and support for everyone.

It's only right to say a few words about Rudi on his retirement. This incredible dog was rehomed aged 17 months and Will was told by his previous owner that he was 'untrainable'. Nothing could be further from the truth. Despite his late start, Rudi has had an incredible career with Will. The pair have twice brought home gold medals for Team GB from the Junior Open Agility World Championships, have a record breaking 7 Young Kennel Club titles together at Crufts, countless championship final appearances, a fourth place finish in the final of KCI - the biggest agility show in the world, and Rudi won an International Tour event meaning Will became the youngest ever handler to achieve this feat. All of this when lockdown robbed Rudi of nearly two years of competition in the middle of his career when he was at his absolute peak. He is the most loving, loyal and easily trainable agility dog you could wish for - a true star.

Rudi is now enjoying the first weeks of his well deserved retirement while Will is focussing on the next agility dog in the family, Brave, who has already started to move up the grades.

Finally, a huge thank you to everyone in the village who has supported Will and Rudi over the years at fundraising events and with their many kind words and good wishes. It has meant such a lot to Will.

You can see lots of photos, videos and stories about Will, Rudi and the other spaniels including his runs at WAO this year and in previous years at willbacchus.com

Frangipan Flan Recipe

Flan Pastry Oven temp 200° Fan 180° Gas 6
4 oz Plain Flour
3 oz Butter or Margarine
1 tsp caster Sugar
1 egg

Rub the fat into the flour until it resembles fine crumbs. Mix in the sugar, add the egg, stirring until the ingredients begin to stick together, then collect the mixture together with one hand and kneed lightly to give a firm smooth dough.

Frangipan filling

2 tbsps raspberry jam 2 oz butter or marg
2 oz caster sugar 1 egg beaten
A few drops of almond essence
2 oz ground almonds
(½ oz flour, 2 oz icing sugar for topping)

Roll out pastry and line a 7 inch flan ring, taking the pastry up the sides of the flancase. Spread the bottom of the pastry with the jam. Cream together the fat and sugar until pale and fluffy and add the beaten egg and essence a little at a time, beating well after each addition. Fold in the ground almonds and flour with a metal spoon. Put the filling into the jam lined pastry case. Roll out the trimmings of the pasty and cut ¼in (0.6cms) wide strips to form a lattice on top of the filling. Bake flan in the centre of the oven for 10 - 15 mins, then reduce the oven temp to 180° Fan 160° Gas 4 for a further 15 - 20 mins, until the filling is firm; remove from the oven. Mix the flour and icing sugar with a little water to produce a thin icing which can be brushed on top of the flan when cooked.

Ruminations from the Rectory

As I write this, I have been in post less than a week. However, during this short time both Dianne and I have been humbled by the kind and loving reception we have received from everyone we have met following my induction and licensing on 9th June. It is a truly wonderful community.

Coming from a pastoral ministry calling and wearing a collar in the parishes gives me the opportunity for many 'God conversations', and every now and then I hear the comment "I don't go to church, but it's good to meet you". This is often followed by "But when life gets hard, I do pray for a miracle".

One of the most affirming ministries of my curacy was the time spent in care homes and, in particular, the time spent with dementia patients. I was often struck by those who would not attend my communion services in the community lounges and sat at the other side of the room. They would say they had no faith or indeed doubted their faith, yet when we said the Lord's prayer, they would utter the words of the prayer from the other side of the lounge as if they were recounting a past encounter with faith. These instances affirm to me that even when people doubt, there is still a part of them that places their hope in God.

The 3rd of July sees the festival and celebration of St Thomas. Thomas the Apostle, also known as Didymus, was one of the Twelve Apostles of Jesus, according to the New Testament. He is commonly referred to as "Doubting Thomas" because he initially doubted the resurrection of Jesus Christ. However, upon seeing the healed wounds on Jesus' body after the crucifixion, he confessed his faith with the words, "My lord and my God." The story of Doubting Thomas in John 20:19-31 reminds us of the struggle many people face in their faith journey. It is natural to have doubts and questions, and this passage demonstrates how Jesus compassionately addresses those concerns. When Jesus appeared to His disciples after His resurrection, He offered them peace and showed them His wounds as evidence of His victory over death. Thomas, however, was not present during this encounter and expressed scepticism when told about Jesus' appearance. He demanded physical proof, stating that he would not believe unless he saw and touched Jesus' wounds.

In response to Thomas' doubts, Jesus graciously appeared to him, offering the physical evidence he sought. Upon seeing and touching Jesus, Thomas' doubts were erased, and he proclaimed his belief in Jesus as Lord and God.

This passage emphasizes the importance of faith – believing without seeing. Jesus acknowledges the challenge of believing without tangible evidence, yet He also blesses those who are able to maintain faith without sight.

I am reminded how we often pray when we need help either for ourselves or a loved one, yet we are called to pray often and indeed give thanks, not just when we are in need. We will not always see the signs around us and will have doubts just like St Thomas, but God offers hope and peace in times of trouble.

We are all on different journeys and turn to God in different ways. Our united benefice is full of love and community spirit. Let's keep reminding ourselves that we may not always see what God is doing in our lives and at times may have doubts, but God is love and always present in the ups and downs of life, no matter where we are on our faith journey. All we need are the eyes to see and ears to hear.

John 20:19-31

AI has got it wrong!

I have been on the periphery of AI for some time, but have found contrary to many peoples understanding, AI is a long way off from being the tool to save the planet. Moreover, if it continues on its present trajectory and without suitable Governmental controls it could very well be our destruction.

Sadly, thieves and scammers are very much in the forefront exploiting its weaknesses as a useful tool.

For example, I wrote an advert on eBay selling a broken laptop, the copy reads;

"I am selling a damaged Lenovo laptop B50 for spares, the unit will not boot up and has some keys missing, sold without ram, adapter or hard drive. UK sales only returns not accepted".

I copied that text into Ebay's AI copy writer, this what it gave me;

"This laptop is perfect for your computing needs. It is a reliable and efficient device that will help you get your work done with ease. Whether you need it for work or personal use, this laptop is sure to meet your requirements. With its sleek design and powerful specifications, it is a great choice for anyone in need of a high-performance laptop. It is ideal for multitasking, running multiple applications, and browsing the web with ease. So, whether you need it for work or play, this laptop is the perfect choice for your computing needs".

There's no mention of damage or that it does not work. Only a spin on the manufacturers promotional copy!

People should be aware, anything presented via the internet these days can be fake!!

Imagery, Voice, Music all can now be cloned, reconstructed and presented falsely as the real thing. Much work needs to be done, both in development and in governmental control before it becomes the saviour of mankind.

BT has decided, as it is so far behind schedule, it will delay terminating the existing analogue telephone system and will introduce the compulsory digital VOIP system in 2027 and not 2025 as previously planned. EE will take over BT's retail arm in a rolling change and Open Reach will be the Broadband supplier. Incompetence will continue as before, without change!
