WE DID IT

We are delighted to say that we completed our 26.2 mile marathon in the London Moon Walk on Saturday 18th May. The weather was perfect and the atmosphere was inspirational.

Along with thousands of others, all wearing an amazing assortment of decorated bras, we started walking at 11.00pm, passing many of the capital's landmarks lit up in pink in tribute to the Breast Cancer Charity. After many hours of pounding the uneven pavements of London, we were pleased to complete the walk well ahead of our 8 hour target, albeit with tired feet, but thankfully no blisters!

We want to send out a massive 'THANK YOU' to everyone who so generously sponsored us - our current total stands at almost £2035.

We are truly humbled by your generous support ♥
Love Sandy and Martin xx

May Meeting

Martin Clunes coming to Week St Mary? Surely not! Almost is the answer. The majority of you have probably been watching our May speaker on television for the last 25 years. Paul Martin, a local man (no relation), appeared in the TV series "Doc Martin" for all 10 series filmed over a total of 22 years; firstly as an Extra and, in later years, as a body double for the Doc himself. Because he had been encouraged in his youth to take part in performances on stage, he applied for the part of an Extra as soon as he knew that a new TV series (as yet untitled) was due to be filmed in Port Isaac. He was accepted and so began his career as a TV and film extra.

Each episode took 4 months to film and not all episodes were filmed in Port Isaac – it was mainly used for outside shots. Indoor room sets were built in a barn near St Endellion and St Genny's was used for "Aunt Joan's" funeral. He was keen to emphasise that it was not all glamour! Extras are given 24 hours notice and often provide their own clothes. Filming was normally from 9am until late although actors would have been on set for hours for make up, instructions and rehearsals. It was often done in very cold weather with bright lights simulating sunshine although the actors had to be in summer clothes. Don't believe everything you see on screen!

Halfway through the series Paul started to take on the role as body double for Martin Clunes. This involved filming which did not show Martin's face. It included driving the Lexus car or sitting in the back seat for the wedding or single shots like providing an arm or hand. He also graduated to minor speaking or non speaking parts. At other times Paul was a body double for a stalker and a Policeman. Interesting points of interest were that children from Delabole School were used for non-speaking parts: speaking parts for minors were provided by stage schools and all children were exceptionally well looked after. Martin Clunes, well known for his love of animals, got on extremely well with Buddy (played by Dodger) but both actors got into character immediately when shooting started – the dog was a complete professional! It was a very happy set and all the actors were extremely friendly. Paul's wife, Donna, also joined him as an extra in the final series.

What is Sharenting and the dangers of Sharenting

Sharenting, is the practice of parents sharing pictures and videos of their children on social media. What many may not consider is that sharing information online can lead to embarrassment, bullying, or the misuse of that data by deep fake identity theft.

AI is the new plaything, but much of the data is 2 years out of date. As banks replenish its data it will harvest all existing and new data on social media from the last 2 years.

You may think, there is no harm in posting a few images of the new born or your child winning at rugby. But to the wider world such data is extremely useful!

Barclays Bank forecasts by 2030, publicly shared images will account for two-thirds of all identity fraud.

Child identity fraud in US cost $1 Billion dollars annually and it affects or involves 1 in 50 children, let alone the trauma and distress for all concerned.

Dangers of sharenting

1.Reveal too much about children to bad actors.

Videos and photos posted on social networks can be hijacked and used to create fake profiles and shared them with other strangers.

2.Childrens digital identity can be stolen

Thinking identity theft happens only to adults is wrong. A child's digital identity is pure gold to a cybercriminal as it is a "clean slate" no records or incidents are related to it.

3.Digital kidnapping.

This involves stealing images of a child and pretending the child is their own. Malicious acts like this can adversely affect the child, subject them to bullying or unwanted exposure.

4.Profiling could affect children in the long term

Using a child's data can have a serious adverse effect on their future, create a criminal record, affect their education, mental health or financial standing at a later time.

5.Online privacy and the right to create their own digital identity

The child's right to privacy maybe severely compromised

6.Turn off location services

Avoid uploading images with places that could reveal your location, e.g., in front of their house or school and turn off location services on your phone or computer.

Remember, be selective if sharing images with strangers and ensure all systems have end-to-end encryption. Adjust social media accounts' privacy settings and restrict access to your content only those you know and prevent strangers from viewing images of your children.

VANDALISM IN THE VILLAGE

There has been an increase in vandalism in the village recently. This has included the light outside the playing fields being tipped over, leaving the wires showing, and the hand sanitiser was kicked off the gate.

We would remind everyone to be respectful of things in the parish.

Thank you.

Letter of introduction from the new Rector Rev. David Saunders

Dear friends,
As you read this article, we may have already had the pleasure of meeting. On the 9th June I will be inducted and installed as Rector with oversight ministry for the benefice. For me, this will be my first role as an incumbent. My background is certainly not traditional; coming from the world of finance, working for 40 years in the insurance industry and rarely stepping into a church except for baptisms, weddings or funerals of friends and loved ones. It took a life changing event in 2013 to lead to my wife (Dianne) and I stepping into a church to join the congregation for the first time and question 'What is life all about?'. We spent our early life building our family, chasing promotions; success was measured in terms of possessions and wealth. But I was never fulfilled in my role; there was always something missing. Stepping into All Saints' Church in Berkshire was an experience that changed our lives. Suddenly, the Holy Spirit was awake in us and growing. I was both baptised and confirmed in 2013; at the time, the rector told me I would be standing where he was and leading a congregation in time. Fast forward to my discernment at Ely, acceptance into training for ordination at Rippon College, Cuddesdon, Oxford, and appointment as Assistant Curate for All Saints' Church at Ascot Heath, much has happened over the last 11 years. So, why Cornwall and The Bude Coast and Country benefice? Following God's call, we embarked on a fresh start in life, selling our home and renting for a while. We knew we were being led to look elsewhere in the country, but had no idea it would be Cornwall, until one day we were led to a plot of land near North Petherwin. From the moment we saw it, we knew this was where we were meant to be. Over the years, since building our family home, we have been welcomed by the people of Cornwall and have been blown away by the communities here and care you show for each other. We have also seen the hardship of rural life through the seasons and the challenges faced. Throughout the last decade, the Bible passage that has carried us throughout our journey to faith and Cornwall has been Jeremiah 29:11: 11

"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."

(New International Version).

I am very much looking forward to ministering and being a permanent part of the benefice, meeting you all in this new chapter. If you see me out and about, please come and say hello.

Rev David Saunders.
